DECLARE PEOPLE WOULDN'T VOTE $4,250,000 IN BONDS

Presidents of Business Associations Sharphy Criticise the House-Business Men's League Next Week, Will Start Campaign for $2,750,000 Approach.

The House of Delegates' amendments to the Hines free bridge bond issue bill, by which it was converted into a scheme to grab $4,250,000 for the construction of the Alton & Mississippi approach will be killed by the City Council Friday evening if the members adhere to their determination to vote against them, as indicated in interviews Thursday with Post-Dispatch reporters.

In the face of Mayor Kiel's sudden flop on the free bridge que and his announcement that he was going to request the Republican mem bers of the Conucil to accept the amendments following his conference with Republican City Chairman John Schmell, eight members of the Council declared that they would ignore his advice.

Two members Councilman Fletcher and Meel ould vote for the amended bill. Councilman Randali said he was co sidering the advisability of accepting the amendments, with a view of bringing about an agreement to complete the bridge by an increase in the tax rate, after the Alton & Mississippi bond issue scheme shall have been defeated at the polls, as he feels sure it would be if submit the voters. A conference of Council members before the meeting Friday after noon will be held to discuss the free bridge situation. Several members of the Council declared Mayor Kiel had created an unfortunate situa iden change of front. Mayor Kiel told a Post-Di soon after he announced that he was going to ask the Republican mer bers to accept the House amendments, that he did not expect they follow his advice. Their statements to the Post-Dispatch, which fol indicate that the Mayor guessed right: COUNCILMAN KOENIG: I do not think I would change my po-sition on the free bridge bill and vote for the Alton & Mississippi ask me to do it. The Council was right in its stand on the Hines bill, and Mayor Kiel was right when he sage. Public sentiment was strong-ly behind our stand. I do not see how the Mayor could ask me, as a Republican member of the Council, to support this Alton & Mississippi desirable, it is backed by undesirable influences, and its acceptance, instead of settling the difficulties, would create turmoil. A bond issue for $,4250,000 for the Alton & Mississippi approach would not have the slightest chance of being passed. COUNCILMAN PAULE: Holy Smoke! Has the Mayor flopped again? Where is he, anyway. This free bridge situation is certainly compli cated. I do not see how I could vote for the Alton & Mississippi vote for the Alton & Mississippi proposition, as it will come to the Council from the House of Delegates. I will say that I want action on this free bridge business, and I-want the question put up to the people in some shaps.

COUNCILMAN HINES: I see no reason why I should change my attitude on the free bridge question.

The Council bill, which I introduced and which the Council passed, is the proper bill. The Mayor's changes of attitude merely complicates the pe-culiar situation.

COUNCILMAN HERMANNI AS I feel now, I do not think the May-or's advice to accept the Heuse amendments to the Hines bill would have any weight with me. I do not think the public would stand for the A. & M. proposition. If the Mayor could show me that they would, I might consider it.

COUNCILMAN PROTEMANN: I COUNCILMAN PROTZMANN: I do not think the people would stand, for a moment, for the Alton & Mis-sissippi scheme. I am so eager to complete the bridge that I would be willing to accept something not to my liking to get the work started. But this whole A. & M. proposition neems to be so lacking in merit that

COUNCILMAN MEEHAN: I have been for the Alton & Mississ proposition all the time, simply cause it takes the approach out of the jurisdiction of East St. Louis the jurisdiction of East St. Louise. From my standpoint, the Mayor's change of attitude would seem to simplify the situation. I feel certain the people would not vote bonds, in any amount, for the Reber approach. I de not knew what they would do with a bond issue for the Alton S. Mississippi approach. The Reber approach has been knocked so much that it does not seem to have any friends among the people I come in. proaches would be the northeast approach, but as between the other two, I am for the Alton & Mi they turn down the bond issue the tax rate can be increased after May' if to provide money for building the Reber approach. Enough members of the House of Delegates have assured me that they will vote for the tax increase to make it certain that the bridge will be completed.

I went to see Mayor Kiel and talked the situation over with him. He told me if the amended Hinse bill was passed by the Council he would not veto it. I am not soing to say definitely that I shall vote for the amended bill, but the Council members will have a conference before their meeting Friday and determine what course to pursue.

It is quite probable that any bond issue will be beaten. Bond issues for the Reber approach have failed three times. If the people have a chance to vote for another approach, and turn that down, it will be a seed indication that they favor the building of the Reber approach by an increase of the tax rate. No bridge approach, in my judgment, can be bottled up, but there is not a great deal of difference between the approach approach, are controlled up to there is not a great deal of difference between the approach are careed to see the section of the farmed between the approach are careed to see that a great deal of difference between the approach are careed to see the section of the sectio of difference between the

Tells How the Rev. D. J. Gallagher Quit Catholic Faith and Wed Her, Former Nurse.

HE IS ST. LOUIS RECTOR

Couple Came Here From Louisville Year Ago, but Secret of Romance Had Been Kept.

Mrs. Daulel J. Gallagher of 3907 Wyoming street, whose husband forsook the Roman Catholic priesthood in Louisville to marry her, and is now a Protestant Episcopal clergyman, on the staff of Christ Church Cathedral here, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday morning, for the first time, her story of the mance which was made known by the

Says He Lost Two Pinces. Just where the Gallaghers were, and what the husband was doing, in the insay. Gallagher's chief reason for ob-jecting to publicity was that, as he said, he had lost two good positions when it had become known that he was the priest who had renounced his vows and had married. He would not say where hese places were.

Mrs. Gallagher is happy in the care of her four-room flat, which she and her husband have occupied but a few weeks. She expects her mother, Mrs. William Layer of Louisville, to visit her within a short time. She is a brunette of medium helght and wears her dark hair parted in the middle. She is 25 years old, while her husband is 10 years older. The difference appears greater, as Gallagher's hair is streaked with gray.

"We have never regretted the step that we took," said Mrs. Gallagher. "We still feel, as we felt then, that, "We still feel, as we felt then, that, loving each other as we did, our marriage was the only right thing, the only manly thing for my husband, the only womanly thing for me. My father and mother. I am very happy to say, took the same view from the first. "I was a graduate of the Louisville High School, and I took up nursing when I was 18. I was first in the Deaconess! Baptised by Present Husband.

'I was not a Catholic at that time, but the sisters in the hospital persuaded me to enter the Catholic Church, and it was Father Gallagher who baptized me. I had met him before that time, when he had called to minister to a patient I was attending.

"Some time after my baptism, I went east with a woman patient, and stayed several months. I had occasion to write to Father Gallagher about a girl who was trying to get into the nurses' training school at St. Joseph's Hospital, and whom I wanted to help. His replies contained personal inquiries and messages which showed a particular interest, so that, after I returned, I was not wholly unprepared for his profession of love, and for his proposal that he should leave the priesthood and that we should be married.

"I believed fully in his sincerity from the first, and I thought I knew my own mind, but to make sure, I required him to wait a year before I would give him to wait a year before I would give him my answer.

"When I did consent to marry him, we left Louisville, my parents accompanying me, and came to St. Louis. We both preferred to be married by the Episcopal ceremony, and we therefore went to Canon Brown and told him the facts about ourselves. He performed the marriage ceremony and has since been a loyal friend to us.

Sought to Avoid Hypocrisy.

"We feel that, while he did renounce his vows, they were man-made vows, and that it would have been a mistake for him to have remained bound for life by them. In view of our feelings toward each other, it would have been hardly less than hypocrisy for him to continue. It was the only thing for us to do."

At the time when the marriage became known, a few days after the ceremony, it was said that Gallagher and his bride had gone to Seattle, Wash, to live. It was also stated, at that time, that they intended to remain members of the Catholic church, although it was also stated by Catholic authorities that excommunication would probably be the punishment for their marriage, and that no priest who knew the facts would grant absolution to either of them.

The lady in the picture here is holding up the spoon to show you that just one table-spoon of Snow-Mellow, costing only 4 cents, makes a bowlful of snowy, fluffy, thick, delicious merisgue—more and better than you could make with 12c to 15c worth of eggs!

Saves Eggs! Saves Work!

So that you may use this wonderful, exquisite Snow-Mellow to save yourself the expense of eggs—so that you may delight your family with these many new Snow-Mellow desserts—you may have absolutely FREE one of these specially designed dessert beaters, which beats up a bowl full of delicious, snowy meringue from just one tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow.

So Economical!

We want to explain to you how we have arranged to make Snow-Mellow the next economical of desserts for your table.

In business there is a certain "overhead" charge against each package—packing, wrapping, boxing, cartage, freight, delivery, etc. And here is how we solved the problem of making Snow-Mellow economical for you. The same "overhead" expense that pays for delivering a ten-cent package to you will pay for delivering inve or six or seven times that quantity of Snow-Mellow if we put it all in one package, and that is what we have done.

Instead of putting only enough Snow-Mellow for one dessert in a package and charging ten cents—we put seven times that quantity—enough for seven desserts—in one package, and instead of charging you seventy cents, the price is only 25c—because we save for you the cost of packing and delivering the six extre packages. That is the only fair way. For after you once find how easy to make and how good to eat Snow-Mellow is you will want to serve it in different desserts several times every week.

Prosecutor Sidener to Ask Circuit Attorney to Investigate Its Acceptance.

Prosecuting Attorney Sidener Thursday announced he would ask Circuit Attorney Harvey to investigate the acceptance of a bond by Deputy Sheriff Edward Rice, which was signed by Felix McAdams, widely known as "Fish" Me-Adams, saloon keeper and Fifth Ward colitician.

The bond, which was for $200, was forfeited Wednesday by Judge Miller in the Court of Criminal Correction, on the nonappearance of James Murphy, charged jointly with Joseph Balzer with stealing goods valued at $20. Balzer pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 10 lays in jail. Judge Miller set March 6 for the date of the appearance of the dsman in court.

Sidener's request for the investigation was made when it developed that there was nothing on record to show Mc-Adams qualified as a bondsman. Deputy Sheriff Rice explained he accepted lcAdams' bond because he understood Judge Miller had accepted him on com

Sham "Bonds" Inquiry. Judge Miller told a reporter he had not accepted McAdams on a common law bond in more than a year and would not do so unless he were regularly qual-

The matter of "straw bonds" was in quired into by the April grand jury, and certain Judges were criticised for accepting bondsmen who had not duly qualified. It was recommended that a bondsman should be qualified for each bond. Sheriff Dickman said Thursday he also would investigate the acceptance of Mc-Adams on the bond.

Rice in Recent Episodes Rice, who is a member of the Democratic City Central Committee, has re cently figured in two other episodes that gained publicity.

Three weeks ago he took Ray Stevenson, convicted of highway robbery and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, from the jail to Union Station in an automobile on Stevenson's way to the penitentiary without handcuffing him, while the other prisoners were handcuffed together and walked to the

A few months ago Rice was given warrant to serve on Dick Mosby, a broker, who had been indicted for running a gambling game at Jefferson City. Although, as it proved, Mosby was in the city nearly all the time without conealment, Rice carried the warrant for veeks without getting service. Finally, when a stir was made about the failur to find Mosby, the latter went to Jeffer on City and gave himself up.

SPRINGFIELD, MO., TO HIDE SMALLPOX FACTS

Figures Refused, but It Is Rumored There Are Between 100 and 300 Cases.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 29 - Arous y reports of an epidemic of smallpox Springfield today and a threat by the Superintendent to close the public schools unless action was taken by the authorities to prevent the spread of the isease, the Health Board, Mayor and uperintendent held a conference this orning to devise means of checking the

The city has been divided into four districts, each in charge of a physician working under the direction of the Health Commissioner. A policy of serecy has been adopted with regard to the number of smallpox cases which prevail, but it is known that 11 patients have been taken to the city camp. The city authorities have the coperation of retail merchants and the ocal newspapers in the suppression of news concerning the situation. Rumore 100 and 300, but no deaths have been reorted to the Health Department. The disease has prevailed here in ecommended. To close the schools ould not aid the attempts of the authorities to stamp out the disease, is stated by the Health Commissioner.

Recruiting Offices Will Be Opened Soon in Various Parts of City.

Volunteers for the cast of the page-ant to be held in Forest Park in May, are being enlisted in all parts of St. Louis, through the work of the 35 members of the Cast Committee. The com mittee, which is beaded by Eugene S. Wilson, a lawyer, will meet Friday at pageant headquarters in the Century Building, and will consider plans for opening recruiting offices in different parts of the city.

Ten thousand actors are wanted. It is not necessary that they all shall have had experience before the foctlights. A company of national guardsmen, turners, or organized and drilled gymnasts, is just as welcome as an equal number of chorus people right from Broadway, New York. And the committee expects to make good use of a lot of individuals who have not had even military or gymnastic train-

Application cards, which are being distributed, have blanks for the name, age, occupation, nationality, weight and height of each person, and the appli-cants are asked to indicate whether they are singers, dancers, horseback riders or canoeists. Almost everyone, it is figured, can sing a little or dance a little, and a good many can ride horseback, while here and there one can manipulate a canoe.

Motor Boat Club Takes Cards. General returns of application cards have not begun to be made at headquarters, but requests for quantities of the cards have been received from the committeemen representing different neighborhoods and lines of work. The Carondelet Motor Boat Club, of which Dr. M. C. Starkloff, Health Commissioner, is commodore, has obtained 200 Twenty-two young men and 55 girls of the Central and branch public ibrary staffs have told Paul Blackwelder, Assistant Librarian, that they rould enlist.

Fifty application cards, requested by the St. Louis Hotel Clerks' Association, have been sent to John A. Lewis of Hotel Jefferson, secretary of the association. It has been suggested that it would be a fine touch of realism to show hotel clerk, Jack Ryan for instance reeting Joliet and Marquette on their rrival, or giving Pierre Laclede a "welo participation by the clerks, it is bepageant time, which will require them to remain at their desks, handing out keys and shouting "Front!"

Realty Men to Join.

The Real Estate Exchange has indicated that it would send a number of volunteers, A. T. Terry being in charge why may get into the cast will be closely watched, to keep them from buying the site of St. Louis from the Indians two beads a front foot.

The Society of Colonial Wars, through

Edward F. Jackson of 4400 Morgan street, had promised to furnish actors in episodes of Indian fighting. Battery A, the First Regiment, N. G. M., the Arbeiter Ring and the Building Industries Association are among the other organizations which have promised to provide men. The Building nembers may be used in the first act of the pageant, as mound builders, but the introduction of concrete mixing machines into the stage settings will be

WABASH RECEIVERSHIP DISSOLUTION ASKED

Application for Decree of Foreclosure Under $41,929,000 Mortgage Also Made.

Wabash Railroad receivership and a decree of foreclosure under mortgage for $41,929,000 was made to United States Circuit Judge Elmer B. Adams, Thurs day, by attorneys representing the bondnclders, the trustee and the receivers. Judge Adams took the application inder advisement. Attorneys G. E. Muray and Lawrence Greer of New York. representing the Equitable Trust Co., which in turn represents the bondholders told Judge Adams that they would remain in St. Louis to answer any questions he might wish to ask relative to heir plans for foreclosure.

A form of decree was presented to court for approval, Attorneys Murray and Greer stated that all interestsdholders, receivers and the railroad ompany-had agreed on the form of

The attorneys declared that all inested were satisfied with the manage ment of the property by the receivers.

U. S. MUST SOLVE FOREIGN PROBLEMS

Mexican, Japanese and British Situations Considerably Interwoven and Complicated.

JAPAN DISPUTE GRAVEST

Speedy Effort Will Be Made to Agree With Great Britain on Arbitration and Canal Tolls.

By Wire From the Washington Buwashington, Jan. 29.—The American Government is confronted with three foreign problems, all somewhat in terwoven, which promise to cause more or les trouble. These problems are:

The Mexican situation. The Japanese controversy ever the California alien land laws.

The British controversy over the Panama Canal tolls dispute and the general rbitration treaty. The controversy with Japan is causing the greatest concern. Japan is resentfu to reply to her third and last note pro-testing against the California alien land ment in allowing her citisens to sell arms and ammunition to Huerts in face of the nigent representations by the United States against such practice, and allowing her Minister to be a party to a pro-Japanese demonstration in the ro-Japanese demonstration in the doan capital a few days ago, has been regarded by many officials of the Government and Congress as "flaunt-

One purpose of the conference Monday night between the President and the Foreign Committee was to set in motion the machinery to straighten out the dif-ficulty with Great Britain in order that the unqualified support of that nation might be had in dealing with the Mexican and Japanese problem.

Steps have been taken by the Govern ment to adjust the controversy between the United States and Great Britain. The President has urged the ratification The President has inged in the has informed Congress that it is his wish that the Adamson act be amended so ships of all nations will be charged the same toll rates in the canal.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has begun consideration of the arbitration treaties now pending between the United States and Japan and tween the United States and Japan and the United States and Great Britain. It is believed that if the Japanese arbitra-tion treaty is ratified it will have a tendency to ameliorate Japan's feelings and that the toils issue and the treaties will be out of the way in a few days.

will be out of the way in a few days.

Veceland Urges Bigger Navy.

Rear Admiral Vrecland of the Navy Board warned the House Committee on Naval Affairs that Japan could take the Philippines and Hawaii with relative case and that the Japanese navy is rapidly outstripping the American navy.

He saked for more battleships.

His testimeny coincided with that Legislation in America.

TOULIO, Jan. 19.—Hopes are expressed a strictal circles here today that a series of understanding on the Californian land ownership question will be found by the Japanese and United states Governmenta. The chief concern sere seems to be in regard to future agriculation in America and it is said any additional enactments unfavorable to apanese would be considered a serious nemace to the traditional friendship of the two countries.

se Government at Washington has beevered to assure Japan that the la of California would cease adopting slation held by Japan to be discrimory. This is admitted here, but it is ted out that owing to the political incidence have on the governments of notions between the governments of sington and California, there might one difficulty in obtaining reason-assurances for the future,

Do not confuse this splendid instrument with ordinary player-pianos because the price is but $450.

Ordinary piano stores are compelled to ask at least $600 for instruments anywhere near approaching the Technola in quality.

In some of the finest homes of Saint Louis—where quality and not price alone governs the selection of instruments will be found the Technola piano.

The TECHNOLA Piano

This remarkable instrument plays full scale 88-note standard music rolls and is provided with every necessary device for

As a piano to be played by hand, the Technola has excited the most favorable comment from every quarter—in tone and action it is superb.

Only the tremendous resources of the great Acolian organization make possible the sale of an instrument of such high quality at the modest instrument of such high quality at the modest price we ask.

The Technola is sold direct from the manufacturers themselves, instead of passing through many hands. This is another reason for the low price.

Investigate, compare and then you will fully appreciate what a remarkable value the Technola piane is.

Council Majority Against A. & M. Grab Business MEN TO Despite the Mayor

sager to see the House and Council together on something that will splete the bridge.

COUNCILMAN FLETCHER: I am going to vote for the House amendments. But I am doing this with the firm conviction that Divine Providence will have to finish the bridge, if it is ever finished.

COUNCILMAN ARENDES: I am absolutely opposed to the bill as amended by the House of Delegates. I do not want any of this Alton & Mississippi business. I would gladly vote $4,500,000 for the completion of the bridge on the Reber approach, but not for the A. & M. I think when the House of Delegates comes to its senses it will realize that it has made a mistake.

COUNCELMAN HALLER: I do

COUNCEMAN HALLER: I do not feel at all friendly toward the House amendments to the Hines bill. Since the Post-Dispatch has characterized this amended bill as a grab, I do not see how any member of the Council could vote for it without stuitifying himself.

The people would kill the Alton & Mississippi bond issue, proposed by the House bill. It is just a waste of time and money to submit it. If I thought the people would vote the bonds, I should be inclined, merely for the purpose of completing the bridge, to set aside my own ideas and vote for the amended bill. But and vote for the amended bill. But I do not think the people would vote

COUNCILMAN EBELING: I am opposed to the House amendments. The amount of money proposed-$4,-250,000—is too much to pay for a bridge approach. The amount proposed by the Hines bill-$2,750,000—is posed by the Hines bill—$2,750,000—is about right. If the Mayor should jurge me to support the House amend-ments, and could show me that the bridge could be completed by accept-ing them, and completed in a satis-factory way, I might be influenced by what he said. But the price is too high, and I would rather not see it done that way.

HOUSE CENSURED BY CIVIC BODIES

Officers of Associations Say People Won't Approve the $4,250,000 Grab.

nearly every trade and industry in St. Louis are preparing to call meetings to f Delegates Tuesday night in passing the Alton & Mississippi approach grab oil. The presidents of several leading organisations told Post-Dispatch reporters Thursday that it was their opinion hat the people would never stand for a 4.250,000 bond issue to build an approac to give value to lands optioned to the noters of the Alton & Mississippi aproach and belt line scheme.

The House of Delegates was sharply criticised for its obstructive tactics. The bond issue bill, to provide $2,750,000 for the Reber approach, was generally favored by the officers of the different business associations. Their views are set forth in these interviews:

Greers for the Hines Bill.
Mike Kelly Jr., president of the Retail Grocers' Association and the Mas-ter Butchers' Association: I am certainly disappointed in the action of the House of Delegates. The Retail Grocers' Association went on record to a man Monday night in favor of the passage of the Hines bill. A resolution that effect was adopted without a dissenting voice. It was introduced by George Schulte, editor of the Interstate Grocer. The members of the association are wide-awake, progressive business men, who want to see the bridge fin-

It seems to me that the different business and improvement associations have shown by the adoption of resolutions how most of the citizens stand, and when the members of the House of Delegates see how the people stand they should submit. It is a business propo-sition. It should not be made a political affair. The association will have another meeting next Monday night a week. There is sure to be some action taken at that time. I hope the Post-

Dispatch will keep up the fight.

The Master Butchers' Association, of which I am also president, will have a meeting next Monday night at Kain Hall, Knights of Columbus Building, and will take action on the situation.

Marshall Hall, president of the Mer-ohants' Exchange: "It is very unfortu-nate that the members of the House of Delegates do not realize that they are Delegates de not realize that they are responsible for placing the city in a very bad position. I hope that some way will be found for the Municipal Assembly to get together on the subject. The next regular meeting of the Merchants' Exchange will not be held until Feb. 10. regular meeting of the Merchants' Exchange will not be held until Feb. 10.

A special meeting will not be called to take action on the free bridge matter."

E. A. Hildenbrandt, president of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange: "It is a calamity that the House of Delegates amended the Hines bill as it did. I don't think the people will vote for the bond issue provided for by the A. & M. bill. I deplore the action that was taken. I think it was a great mistake. I shall confer with members of the Exchange about earling a special meeting to deal with the situation."

O. A. Pier, secretary of the Lumbermen's Association and the Lumberman's Club: "There appears to be no possibility of the Assembly acting in an intelligent manner. Their action Tuesday evening deadlocks the situation, which presents a fine example of the fallure of this form of city government. It should awaken the people to the necessity of having the commission form of government, in the hands of men of skill and intelligence, capable of properly handling such affairs.

Dictator Says He Has No Intention of Resigning, Running or Taking Army Command.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29.-Presiden uerta has no present intention either f rescigning or running away, according to a statement which he made today to an American who discussed political conditions in Mexico with him. When he was asked as to what truth underlay the persistent rumor that he was considering a plan to assume command of the Federals in the field after placing the Government in the hands of a commission, the President said: "My position now is what it has been since President Wilson first announced his inten-tion of not recognizing me, using the influence of his Government to cause my retirement from the presidency.

"I am here, and here I shall remain until Mexican people put me out. I shall neither resign nor turn over the Government to any one man or set of men. If my remaining in office depends upon my obtaining money with which to run the Government, which seems to be the theory of officials in Washington, I can live on the country for two or three years to come.
"I can pay my bills, and what Mexico owes to foreign nations does not worry me, because the United States will not allow any European nation to attempt to collect national obligations by force of arms. That is one strong feature of my position. As I say, I can maintain myself in office indefinitely, or at least until Wilson's term is over, when I shall have another American President to deal with. Huerta will be President of Mexico longer than Wilson will be President of the United States."

Plot Against Huerta Delaya Secre Trip to His Gun Boat.

VERA CRUZ, Jan. 29.—It was learned here today that the secret trip for which the Mexican gunboat Zaragoza has been under orders for several days was to take an official personage to Washington. Who this is has not been learned. The sailing of the gunboat has been postponed because of the discovery of a revolutionary plot against President Huerta at Mexico City.

YOUNG WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE AT UNION STATION

Miss Dora Arthur Had Been Unbalanced Several Months, According to Her Sister.

Miss Dora Arthur, 22 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Arthur, 235 South Newstead avenue, who ended her life in a tollet room at the Union Station Wednesday night by taking poison, had been unbalanced for several months, according to her sister, Mrs. F. Nordman, 3325 Washington avenue. The girl, who formerly had been telephone operator, left her home a week ago and took quarters at 3039 Locust street, where she passed as a married woman, according to Mr. and Mrs. J T. Jimerman, who live at that address. The girl left a note at the Union Sta-tion in which she referred to having been separated from "Charlie."

MOTOR VICTIM IS BURIED

Former St. Louisan, Killed in Texas; Body Brought Here. Leonard Joseph Jackson, 25 years old, accident at Pittsburg, Tex., was buried Thursday in Mount Sinai Cemetery. He was a son of Charles S. Jackson of 5530 Cates avenue, manager of the Famous & Barr clothing department.

The father went to Dallas Monday night upon receipt of a telegram saying his son had been hurt and was not ex pected to live throughout the night. The next morning relatives in St. Louis re-ceived a letter, which the son had written Sunday, saying he intended relin uishing his position as manager of department store in Pittsburg to return to St. Louis and be with his relatives. He was taking a 10-minute ride on a motor cycle before dinner, when a whee struck a rock, hurling him into the road and mortally injuring him.

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS. HE big Soldan High School audi-torium housed an audience of over 1000 boys, girls and teachers from the Soldan and other St. Louis high schools, also many others interested in music, when Victor Lichtenstein began his lecture on "Instrumentation," vivid-

ip, on Wednesday afternoon. This was the first of a series of five ednesday afternoon educative lecturencerts arranged, by the Symphony rchestra management, the remaining our of which are announced for Feb. 4 11 and 28, and March 4, the admiss fee being placed at the nominal sum of 15 cents, the primary purpose of which is to interest and instruct the upcoming generation in the value and beauty of

Mr. Lichtenstein explained with fine simplicity and directness the character and employment of the various instruments constituting a great modern orchestra. As he did so, Max Zach's men, directed by Mr. Zach himself, gave nemorable examples of the use of the many instruments mentioned and, when any of these were not plainly visible, their players later held them up at length in order that the audien might see and thereafter know them by sight as well as by sound.

In addition to Mr. Lichtenstein's inormative talk, an incidental result of the opening lecture was a delightful and singularly illuminative Symphony Orhestra concert with an uncon generous contribution of novel sole

The five sections of the great orchesral string family-the first and second olins, the violas, the violoncellos and the basses-were heard together in three

The first of these was the Haydn impressive score impressively presented. The second was the profoundly mournful "Asse's Death." from Grieg's "Peer Gynt" suite, played on muted strings. The third was Desormes' sparklingly melodious "Mandolin Serenade," illustrating the pizzicato, or plucking, use of the string sections after the mandolin fashion.

Next came the woodwind instruments with the harp sharing in the first numper, an entr'acte from Bizet's "Carmen," arranged for the flute, played by Mr. John Kiburz, and the harp, played by Miss Ida Delledonne.

A flute and piccolo duet, Glazounow's "Scene de Ballet," was excellently played by Messrs. Kiburz and L. Mack Close.

Three flutes, played by Messrs, Kiburz Close and Joseph Nelson, then were heard in Tschaikowsky's delicately poetic "Dance of the Fireflies."

Next came Mr. Jacques Wouters in Lacombe's "Les Marionettes," arranged Lacombe's "Les Marionettes," arranged as an oboe solo, and Mr. Wouters also played the first theme of the Largo from Dvorak's "New World Symphony" on the English horn, which, as Mr. Lichtenstein pointed out, is not a horn at all, but in reality an alto oboe.

· Mozart's levely "Larghetto" was ex-quisitely played by Mr. Tony P. Sarli as a clarinet solo, revealing the tonal beauty of this widest ranging voice of all the woodwinds.

Two bassoons, played by Messrs. Frederick Fischer and Domenico Delle-donne, led in the presentation of another "Carmen" number.

All the woodwinds in combination th were heard in the "Menuet" score from Berlion's "Damnation of Faust."

Only two of the brasses were sounded in solo utterance. These were the horn, played by Mr. Lorenzo Sansone, in the Nocturne from Mendelssohn's "Midsum-Nocturne from Mendassenin the trumpet, mer Night's Dream," and the trumpet, played by Mr. George Glessner, giving the stirringly militant trumpet-call from

The program closed with a full orches ral presentation of Tschaikowsky's "Marche Slav." which brings out the richest and most distinctive color ton of all the instruments.

The high school pupils, for whose especial instruction and entertainmen the lecture-concert was given, listened with the keenest interest and seemed reatly to appreciate the musical-educ ional treat of the Symphony Orchestra's

Want Pink Cheeks-Red Lips?

Some unfortunate men and ween en are prone to wonder why some of their friends are blessed with an abundance of color—pink cheeks and red lips—while theirs are always colorless. The reason for this last named condition is—there is not enough red blood corpuscies in the blood—under a microscope the blood is thin and watery. The flesh is flabby, too. Well known physicians assert that the regular administration for several months, of three grain hypo-nuclane tablets will greatly improve the color, add to the weight, make the cheeks pink and the lips red, and in general be very beneficial. LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Woman Replies to Mr. Astor.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I read William Vincent Astor's reply to Upton Sinclair's letter and wish to reply in behalf of the working class, to which I belong.
Mr. Astor says he is convinced from the testimony of the representatives of labor "That the condition of the laboring people has greatly im-proved during the last few generations." The representatives of labor he was so fortunate to ate with are capitalistic and do not want to give up their good jobs. They will fool the working class just as long as they can. They can fool all the working class so ne of the time and some of the working class all the time, but they can't reduction. Tools were crude and production late. Of what the working class produced they get only what their wages could buy back.

Today it is social production by the aid of the machine which produces at a wonderful rate with great improvements. While the working class have gained some few advantages from the imovements which have been made (and surely it uid be strange if they were not a little benefited all they have done), still the fact remains that re of the working class today lack the neces-

His statement that the tank and sewer system were ever taken over by the city is wholly unive. The property owners were permitted to build this alleged "sower system" as a temporary expedient for their own convenience and benefit in advance of the construction of city sewers. It was built as a private sewer and is a private sewer today. There is no more obligation on the part of the city to repair a private sewer

HOW TO GET BRIDGE ACTION.

Mayor Kiel is a mighty quitter. The Big Brickyer is a Big Bluff. He met the enemy on the oridge issue and he is theirs.

The Mayor assumed the leadership for bridge ction on sane and sound lines. Announcing that he would whip the House of Delegates into support of the Hines Council bill, he surrendered at the first blow. Instead of leading the House combine to the only wise solution of the bridge question, he was led into the camp of the land speculators and promotors who are trying, with the aid of their combine allies in the House, to put over a monstrous bridge grab.

Not only does the A. & M. scheme propose an increase of more than a million and a half in the cost of the bridge, if the city builds it, and a much greater increase if it is built by contract, but it involves monopoly control of the bridge approach on the north. One bridge arbitrary having been fought to a finish, the Mayor and the House combine, under the influence of the A. & M. promoters, propose to set up a new bridge arbitrary on the city's own bridge.

The Mayor has proved that he is a flip-flopper and cannot be trusted for either leadership or law and the instrumentalities of a special depart protection against bridge jobbery. As the situation now exists, it is the Council against the House combine and the Mayor. If the Council stands by its guns the A. & M. job will fail.

There is another factor stronger than any of these which can force victory, not only against the is little to the credit of the department charged grabbers and jobbers, but for prompt action on the best and cheapest available plan—the bond issue for $2,750,000 provided for in the original into its old status of complacent inertia. Hines Council bill. The people of St. Louis who want to have the bridge completed with least cost and greatest usefulness, without a bery or delay, should enforce their will.

The Business Men's League should act promptly on its plan to organize a representative committee. The presidents of other organizations who have demanded action should themselves act in cooperation. What is to be done should be done

The Council should reject the A. & M. amendments to the Hines bill. It should have the united organized support of the people.

The A. & M. bond scheme cannot be carried out without the approval of the voters. If there is a 500,000 or let the city bridge stand unfinished. deadlock or an attempt to put through the robber contract plan, the people have a recourse in the initiative. Final power to decide the bridge question lies with the people and they should act when their officials fail to safeguard their interests.

A TOGA FOR TAGGART.

Tom Taggart is to run for the United States Senate in Indiana. Coming on the heels of Roger Sullivan's announced candidacy in Illinois this suggests interesting possibilities. Why should not the "gentleman from New York" hereafter be the Hon. Charles F. Murphy? And while the nance books requires that all such produce shall going is good, we venture to suggest that the Jeptha D. Howe.

VOTING BY MAIL.

From the Boston Globe.

Why not vote by mail?

Gov. Walsh favors it and is quoted as saying that he is thinking out a scheme whereby voters may deposit their ballots in the mail addressed to the proper authorities and have them counted just as if they appeared in person at the pelling booth. Voting by mail is no more preposterous than the Australian ballot seemed some years ago when the agitation for its adoption began.

The voter probably would have to disclose to the election officials how he voted. But that is one of the details which will be worked out later if the Legislature adopts the plan. Several members have taken up the suggestion of the Governor and bills for providing MISCELLANEOUS.

Mayor Upholds Man Accused of Stealing Chicken and Another Who Beat His Wife.

FAVORITISM IS CHARGED

Opponents of Socialist Executive Will Seek to Remove His Appointees.

Investigation of the conduct of two Granite City policemen, made at the Council meeting Tuesday night by the Council Police Committee, has roused the ire of Council members. Charges of political favoritism and bad fastin have been made, but no official action looking toward the removal of the policemen has been taken.

The policemen accused are Lewis Liesmann, who was indicted by the Madison County grand jury last week for assault and battery on comfined $500.

Final Battle in East St. Louis

City Court Saturday. City Court Saturday.

The final fight on the confirmation of the Wimstanley saver ordinance will be made by attorneys employed by complaining residents in Judge Robert H. Flannigan's division of the East St. Louis City Court Saturday.

One of the residents' objections to the $314,000 project is the fact that this new sawer would empty into the Illinois avenue sawer, which is said to be in poor condition. The residents also say that, because of the city's financial condition, bonds for the work would not bring more than 89 per cent of their face value.

Partner Declares Big Private Institutions Should Be Ex-empt From Federal Control. NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—W. H. Porter, a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., was a witness today before the Senate committee which is investigating private banks, with a view to their regulation.

He said firms like his should be 'xempt, "because they are not doing business with the class of people the committee desires to protect." He added that J. P. Morgan & Co. accepted no deposits of less than $10,000. They paid from 2 to 3 per cent interest, he said.

"Because dishonest poeple become private bankers," said Porter, "the big bankers should not be liable to legislation that would hamper the proper conduct of good business."

St. Louis Money Market.

There is little change to note in the local money market. Indeed, there would appear to be little possibility for any further as regards rates. Call money is unchanged with a pretty good business done in this kind. Time funds are about as easy as can be expected, notwithing the standing an increasing demand from borrowers lately, and the slight impairment in the condition of the local banks. There is a slight diminishing supply of prime-named commercial paper at this moment. Business in this is rather less active than it was a few days ago, but banks are generally in the market for paper, and while there may be a temporary indisposition on the part of institutions to invest, note brokers are having in difficulty in disposing of their paper to out-of-town banks.
